

MERCER, Samuel Alfred Browne, coll. prof.; b. Bristol, Eng., May 10, 1880; s. Samuel and Elizabeth (Browne) M.; B.Sc., Bishop Feild Coll. and Central Training Sch., St. John's, Newfoundland, 1900; B.D., Nashotah House, Wis., 1904; studied Semitic langs. and lits., U. of Wis., 1905; B.A., Harvard, 1908; continued Semitic studies at Göttingen, Heidelberg, the Sorbonne (Paris), and Munich, Ph.D., U. of Munich, 1910; D.D., Nashotah House, 1917; LL.D. from same, 1932; Th.D., Paris, 1938; D.S.Litt., Kenyon College, 1939; m. Genevieve Magee, Aug. 15, 1910; 1 dau., Harriet Martha. Ordained deacon and priest, P.E. Ch., 1904; prof. of Hebrew and O.T. lit., Western Theol. Sem., Chicago, 1910-22; dean of Bexley Hall, Gambier, O., 1922-23; prof. Semitic langs. and Egyptology and dean of divinity, Trinity Coll., Toronto, since 1923. Mem. German Orient-Gesellschaft, Am. Oriental Soc., Internat. Soc. Apocrypha (v.p.), Royal Asiatic Soc.; fellow Royal Geog. Soc.; rector Soc. of Oriental Research, and editor of its jour.; founder Anglican Theol. Review; editor of The Biblical and Oriental Series; editor of Egyptian Religion; editor of Egyptology in the last edition of Webster's New International Dictionary. Decorated Lauréat de l'Académie Française; Order of the Trinity (Abyssinia). Club: University. Author: The Oath in Babylonian and Assyrian Literature, 1911; Extra-Biblical Sources for Hebrew and Jewish History, 1913; The Ethiopic Liturgy, 1915; Egyptian Grammar, 1915; Sumero-Babylonian Sign-list, 1918; Allied and American Peace Terms, 1918; The Book of Genesis, 1919; Growth of Religious and Moral Ideas in Egypt, 1919; Religious and Moral Ideas in Babylonia and Assyria, 1919; Ethiopic Grammar, 1919; Life and Growth of Israel, 1921; Assyrian Grammar, 1921; Tutankhamen and Egyptology, 1923; The Recovery of Forgotten Empires, 1925; Egyptian Grammar, 1927; Etudes sur les Origines de la Religion de l'Égypte, 1929; Ethiopic Text of the Book of Ecclesiastes, 1931; The Tell el-Amarna Tablets, 1939; Horus, Royal God of Egypt, 1942; The Supremacy of Israel, 1945; also many articles on Semitic law and religion and on Egyptology. Address: Trinity College, Toronto, Can., also Grafton, Mass.

MERCHANT, Frank Ivan, coll. prof.; b. N.Y. City,