

From: Who's Who in America, 1954-1955

"La Gorce, John Oliver (lá-gôrs), editor; b. Scranton, Pa., September 22, 1880; s. of Gabriel Hauteville and Elizabeth Cecilia (Oliver) LaG; A.M. Georgetown U.; Litt.D., George Washington U.; D. Sc., S.D. Sch. of Mines; D.Sc., University of Tampa, Tampa, Florida; D.Sc. Univ. of Miami; married. Spl. writer, newspapers and mags. 1903-05; asst. sec. Nat. Geog. Soc., 1905-07;" now editor and president, <sup>now here</sup> "life trustee National Geog. Soc., 1917; fellow Royal Geog. Soc. (Eng.); hon. mem. Geographical Soc. Peru; delegate U. S. Govt. to 3d Pan Am. Scientific Congress, Lima, Peru, 1925; director Riggs National Bank. Trustee Corcoran Gallery of Art, Washington, D. C. Appointed postmaster Little America, Antarctica, 1933. Decorated Officer Legion d'Honneur. Clubs: Cosmos, National Press, University, Army & Navy, Chevy Chase, Country (Washington), The Surf, La Gorce Country Club (Miami Beach), Author: The Warfare on Our Eastern Coast; Devil Fishing in the Gulf Stream; Food Fish of North Atlantic; Book of Fishes; Flight at the Timberline; Puerto Rico, the Gateway of Riches; Jamaica, Isle of Many Rivers; Penn's Land of Modern Miracles. Contbr. Many travel articles. Home: 2120 Kalorama Rd., Washington, D. C. "